Psychotherapy, Philosophy, Community Introduction to the Philadelphia Association

4 Marty's Yard, 17 Hampstead High Street, London NW3 1QW
Tuesdays, 6.15 - 9.30pm

12 October 2010 – 28 June 2011

The Introductory Course runs on a Tuesday evening from 6.15 pm. The course begins each week with an experiential group, which is obligatory - followed by a seminar.

The course is a required introduction to anyone wanting to apply to do the psychotherapy training at the PA.

It also offers the opportunity to anyone who is interested in the conversation between philosophy, psychotherapy theory and practice, and community, but does not wish to train.

The programme for 2010 – 11 will include seminars on:

Nietzsche

The Meaning of Community

Understanding Suffering

Madness and Meaning – Looking at King Lear

What is Psychoanalysis

Mothers and Babies and Thinking

The Origins and History of the Philadelphia Association

Ways in Which the Body Can Speak
